Date: 3rd July 2023

Participants: 1) Alekhya Vuyyala, MSc Biochemistry

2) Aneesa Nazareen, MSc Biochemistry

3) Alekhya G, BSc MGC

4) Dr S. Shalini Devi, Assistant professor, Department of Microbiology, ED cell member, BVC

On July 3, members of ED cell, V. Alekhya, Aneesa and G. Alekhya took part in a workshop conducted by AIC, CCMB. These enthusiastic participants were accompanied by a ED cell faculty member, Dr Shalini Devi, Department of Microbiology, BVC. The workshop provided a comprehensive understanding of IPR in today's industry and equipped the participants with the knowledge needed to effectively navigate the complicated landscape. The workshop included four lectures which empowered budding entrepreneurs with knowledge and importance of intellectual property.

The first talk was given by Mr. Subhajit Saha, Head - Legal & IPR, Resolute Group of Companies on "Intellectual Property Rights Basics". He gave a brief introduction on Intellectual Property Rights, Patents and Trademarks with some excellent examples.

The second lecture, "The Way of an Entrepreneur," was given by Dr. Ramjee Pallela, Chief Operating Officer, AIC-CCMB. During this talk, the resource person explained different stages an entrepreneur and the funding schemes in India, especially for health care innovators.

The next presentation by Ritika Marampalli, Program Manager, AIC-CCMB, was about the initiative "NIDHI-PRAYAS". The fourth talk was by Dr Divya Singh, Business Development and IP Officer, CSIR-CCMB, on "How to check if an invention is patentable?". She demonstrated a primary patent search and also provided list of sources for patent search. Finally, the workshop ended with a valuable and memorable experience of visiting facilities at Atal incubation center, CCMB.
