this programme is organized before conduct of Placement Eligibility Test [PET] to qualify /attend the placement opportunities which is provided by the Placement Committee form college.

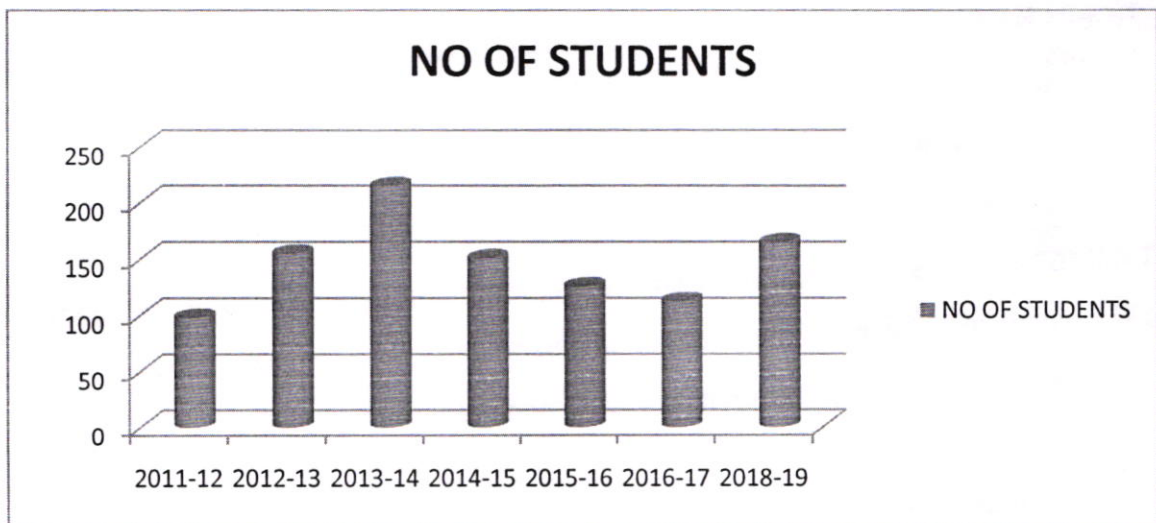

Cont.,

Majority of students have suggested in increasing the number of days and having the classes in regular schedule. The students also wanted the classes to be held on alternate days, and to continue till the placements program begins. They wanted a workshop on online exam.

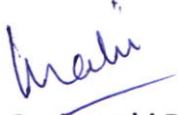

They also wanted some mock interviews and group discussion scenario and JAMs to be conducted. They also wanted more classes on Aptitude test because it is the first round of qualification in the placement session.

Since this time the course has started late there was a cut down in the registration of the students. To increase the strength of students the following enhancements are to be made from next year placement training programme.

1. Video Demonstrations for facing Interviews.
2. Web site names for preparing technical rounds.
3. Two days for numerical Analysis.
4. Technical round online test.

Seeing the good response for the program, the lecturers were highly motivated to give maximum information to the students.
